

Mrs. Kopp's January Class News 3 Year Olds Class

2020 is here! Both the children and I were excited to come back to school after our break. The children were certainly refreshed and ready to learn. I am so happy to see how well they adjusted back into the routine of our preschool days. January brought our class many new sensory activities as we explored and learned all about winter. This month we used pom-poms for many math games, snowflake stickers to peel and stick on many of our projects, and even shaving cream to play with!

Religion:

During January we focused on Jesus and his early life. The children are becoming very familiar with our daily prayers. I hope that you hear them saying their prayers at home too. They really are getting the hang of all the words!

Reading:

This month we focused on the letters W, S, I, and R. The children continue to practice identifying the letters in their name through spelling, tracing, and crafts. One of our favorite January crafts required the children to put sticker letters in the right order to spell their name. I was amazed at how easily they could read their name tags and match the right sticker letters to the right spots. Such great progress!

Math:

We continued counting and identifying numbers throughout the month of January. The children enjoyed a craft where they had to count out little sleds. We also counted pom-poms and compared quantities (less and more).

Colors:

Games that require matching colors are quickly becoming popular in our classroom. This month we matched different colored mittens and hats. The children also sorted different objects by their colors.

Shapes:

This month we enjoyed reviewing our shapes with the help of our "shape penguins". The children had fun finding different shapes and matching them to the penguin bellies.

Upcoming dates to remember:

Our Valentine's Day party will take place on February 13. More information to follow soon.
